GREETINGS FROM FR. BILL

Holy Week is quickly approaching with the Mass of Palm Sunday next weekend! Blessed palms will be given out at the end of each Mass. A graphic with our full Holy Week & Easter schedule is on Page 4 of this bulletin for you to cut out and post at home.

At the 9:30am Mass this weekend, our parish will be praying in a special way for those who wish to become Catholic and have been participating in classes with us since last fall. Some are coming from a non-religious/non-baptized tradition; others are coming from a previous Christian tradition. We call these people our "Elect" and "Candidates for Full Communion", respectively.

Those of you at our 9:30am Mass will see our adapted Rite of Scrutiny, which is part of the Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults, or RCIA (soon to be renamed to the Order of Christian Initiation for Adults, or OCIA).

In essence, we will be praying for these people while also joining them in examining our consciences. This very group will be the focus of our Easter Vigil Mass, the greatest Mass of our entire liturgical year! I hope you will consider attending this Mass and experience the joy of walking with these wonderful people into Christ's Church!

If you or someone you know is interested in becoming Catholic, please reach out to Erin Nieves (erin@h-t.org), or feel free to talk to me, Fr. Anthony, or Dcn. Brett. Classes will begin in the Fall, but we're happy to connect with you now and answer any questions that you have.

Funeral services for long-time parishioner Steve Dum are scheduled for Monday, April 8th at 11:00am. May his soul and the souls of all the faithful departed, rest in peace.

BRETT'S TWO CENTS

Hello, everyone. One question that often comes up around Lent is how we arrive at the number 40, as in the 40 days of Lent. If you count the number of days from Ash Wednesday to Holy Thursday (which marks the end of Lent and the beginning of the Paschal Triduum), you get 43 days (44 if you end the Lenten fast on Holy Thursday with the Mass of the Lord's Supper).

"Ah, but Deacon Brett," you say. "You forgot that Sundays are not fast days! You need to remove those from your count."

Of course! So, if I count up the Sundays of Lent (there's six) and subtract them from 43 (or 44), I get. . . WAIT a minute, that gives me 37 (or 38) days! What gives?!

At this point, silly liturgists would say something like, "Brett, Brett, Brett. '40' is symbolic, not a literal number. It refers back to the 40 days of the Flood, Israelites wandering in the desert for 40 years, Jesus' own 40 days in the wilderness, etc. '40' stands for a period of change or transformation. Don't be such a literalist nincompoop."

Well. I may be a literalist nincompoop, but dang it! I want my 40 days! Would the Church really short-change us, spiritually speaking? Well, dear friends, you can relax. There really are (or were) 40 fast days during Lent.

You see, prior to the liturgical reforms following Vatican II, Lent didn't end until noon on Holy Saturday (Easter Vigil). So, if you add Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and Holy Saturday (morning) to the tally of Lenten fast days, voilà – you get 40! But even today, after the reforms, it still works out. Although Lent proper ends on Holy Thursday, the three days prior to the Easter Vigil are still considered fast days – they are referred to as the Paschal Fast. So, if you take the 37 fast days of Lent and add the three fast days of the Paschal Fast, you still get 40 fast days total.

So glad we could get some clarity on this. This is what happens when I can't fall asleep at night due to the God-awful change from Standard Time to Daylight Saving Time. You're welcome!

VIRTUE OF THE WEEK

Every week, our school community explores a different virtue. Last week's virtue was TRUSTWORTHINESS, which calls us to be reliable, dependable, and honest. To be trustworthy is to act in a way that inspires confidence and trust in others. We see it in our students and children when they finish a job or task that was asked of them, and when do the right thing even when no one is watching.

This week's virtue is COURTESY. To be courteous is to treat other people with respect, recognizing that all are made in God's image and likeness. This is a virtue that we ask of our students every day, and we see this from the moment the front doors open and the chorus of "good morning" greetings begins — in the halls, classrooms, playground, and cafeteria. We appreciate our families and the Parish community joining us in considering each virtue of the week!
